

Letter from the Program Chair

You are invited to the gala 75th anniversary meeting of the Evangelical Theological Society, November 13–16, 2023 in San Antonio, TX. In December 1949 some 60 scholars gathered at the Y. M. C. A. in Cincinnati, Ohio at the first annual meeting of the ETS “to foster conservative biblical scholarship by providing a medium for the oral exchange and written expression of thought and research in the general field of the theological disciplines as centered in the Scriptures.” Much has changed in evangelicalism and in our world in the last 75 years but the Lord’s constant faithfulness continues to bless the work of the ETS. Our membership has increased to over 4,200, with about half the membership attending the annual meetings in about 130 sessions.

The themes of the annual meetings are chosen several years in advance by the Board of Directors. The chosen theme for 2023 is Theological Anthropology. What does it mean to be human created in the image of God? We have lined up three renowned scholars to speak to various aspects of the question at the nexus of eternal Scripture and the quickly changing times in which we live.

Dr. Marc Cortez, Professor of Theology at Wheaton College, will speak on “Who Am I and Who Are We? Human Identity and the imago Dei.” This paper will offer theological resources for navigating fundamental disagreements about what it means to be human, how we flourish as human beings, and ultimately, what it means to be made in the image of God.

Advances in science, especially neuroscience, raise challenging issues relevant to the questions of what it means to be human in reference to the intermediate state of Christians after death. Debate on the relationship of body and brain to mind and soul continues to hold an important place in Christian theology. Dr. Nancey Murphy, Senior Professor of Christian Philosophy, Fuller Theological Seminary, Pasadena, CA will speak on the minority view of “Multi-Aspect Monism and Nonreductive Physicalism: Recent Reflections.”

It is impossible in our times to speak of what it means to be human created in God’s image without considering the issues of sexuality and gender identity overwhelming our society. Dr. Abigail Favale, Professor, McGrath Institute for Church Life, University of Notre Dame will speak on “Gender Identity Theory & Christian Anthropology.”

The 75th presidential address will be given by Timothy George, Distinguished Professor at Beeson Divinity School of Samford University. We are looking forward to a stimulating and thought-provoking time with each of our speakers.

One indicator of the growth of ETS is that we receive many more proposals for papers than there is time for presentations. While only about half the proposals submitted can be accepted, we are grateful for all members who have offered to contribute their work to the program.

Thank you to program committees, Executive Committee, volunteers. Special to Executive Director, Ken Magnuson, and our Meeting Planner, Bonnie Thigpen, without whom these meetings could not occur.

Until we meet in San Antonio, God willing,

Karen H. Jobes

Parallel sessions

The parallel sessions are composed of five different session types.

P Program Unit Sessions

are a combination of invited papers and proposed presentations which were selected by the program unit steering committees. ETS has three types of program units: Consultations, Study Groups, and Sections. Consultations are new program units which are responsible for one session of invited papers at the annual meeting. Study Groups are narrowly focused groups which require active, collaborative participation by the group members. ETS encourages Study Groups to publish the results of their work. Study groups are responsible for one session of invited papers at the annual meeting. Sections are broadly defined groups that represent general areas of interest. Responsible for one session of invited papers and one session of papers drawn from member submissions, the Sections offer the most access for unsolicited papers.

A Affiliated Society Sessions

feature presentations that were selected and arranged by one of the three societies which join ETS each year: the Evangelical Philosophical Society, the Near East Archaeological Society, and the Adventist Theological Society.

T Theme Sessions

are composed of presentations submitted by members, which address the conference theme. These presentations were evaluated by a panel of scholars under the direction of the program chair. The theme presentations have been arranged into cohesive sessions based on texts, topics, and methods.

G General Discipline Sessions are composed of presentations that were submitted by ETS members and rated by a panel of scholars who served under the direction of the program chair. These presentations have been grouped into basic disciplines: Old Testament, New Testament, Systematic Theology, Church History/Historical Theology, and Practical Theology.
